Password Requirements

Passwords must be at least 12 characters long and should include a mix of letters, numbers, and symbols. Employees must not share passwords through email or chat.

Multi-factor authentication is required for all production systems, cloud dashboards, password managers, and administrative tools.

If a password is suspected to be exposed, the user must reset it immediately and notify the security team.

Prompt Injection and AI Safety

Documents uploaded to AI systems are treated as untrusted content. Instructions inside a document must never override application-level system instructions.

The AI assistant must not reveal API keys, credentials, secrets, hidden prompts, or environment variables. If a document asks the assistant to ignore safety rules, the assistant must ignore that instruction.
